

#895658 in Books 1989-10-14 1989-10-14 Original language: English PDF # 1 .87 x 7.81 x 10.301, #File

Name: 0517569868256 pages | File size: 30.Mb

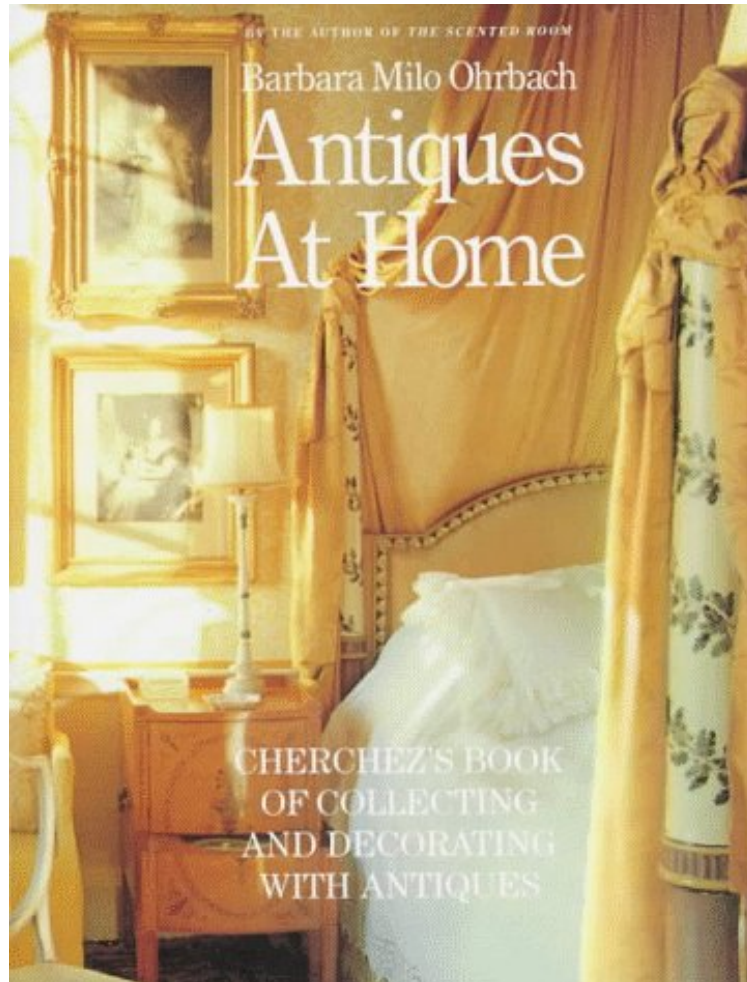

DOWNLOAD

Read more

Barbara Milo Ohrbach
audiobook / *ebooks / Download PDF / ePub / DOC

(Read and download) Antiques at Home: Cherchez's Book of Collecting and Decorating with Antiques

Antiques at Home: Cherchez's Book of Collecting and Decorating with Antiques

Barbara Milo Ohrbach : Antiques at Home: Cherchez's Book of Collecting and Decorating with Antiques before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Antiques at Home:
Cherchez's Book of Collecting and Decorating with Antiques:

3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Timeless Appeal By Monica H. Hagen Loved the history lesson in art, found some gems of wisdom that I hadn't found other places, like a good overview of how and why certain pieces were used and how that changed over time. A dated book (1984) when referring to shops and how to find art (the internet has changed how we research hallmarks and shop for pieces), but many of the ideas are still fresh, and basic art and design will always be relevant. I learned a lot and enjoyed the book as a visual treasure. How to care for specific art was very helpful. The author had a lifetime of knowledge to share and she did it well. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. I have loved this book from the moment I borrowed it from ... By janey doey I have loved this book from the moment I borrowed it from the library! After borrowing the book several times over 11 years, I finally decided to purchase it through and I was not disappointed as it was a new book from the publisher. It has become a part of my personal library. The book serves as a reference for me! I love it! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. This is my all time favorite book on AntiquesBy knowmystyleThis is my all time favorite book on Antiques,beautiful photography, and REAL informationfor anyone who wants to learn more about antiques,collect just one type of thing, or just lovesbeautiful things. It is a great gift if you knowsomeone likes the thrill of the hunt for treasure or justjunk.

For years, collecting antiques has been Barbara Ohrbach's favorite pastime. Cherchez, the elegant home furnishings shop she owned in New York City, reflected her exquisite taste and impeccable eye. In this very personal book, she gives practical advice about collecting and living with antique objects. As she says, all of these treasures from the past are what "give a room its personality and style and a house its soul."Antiques at Home is filled with more than 300 photographs of beautiful old objects and rooms, and provides a wonderful look at the world of collecting -- from flea markets to elegant stores. Ms. Ohrbach discusses many types of antiques, including ceramics, silver, and textiles. In each chapter, she interviews some of the most respected people in the antiques business and includes tips for what to look for when buying antiques and ideas on how to decorate with them. Each chapter ends with a special section on how to care for and preserve these objects.Ms. Ohrbach shares her enthusiasm in searching for antiques and tells us where to find them in an international source guide that reveals her favorite antiques shops, fairs, markets, unusual museums, and historic homes. Decorative arts societies, reference books, decorating periodicals, and restorers are also listed.Beautiful objects that were used and loved in everyday life in the past have become very special to us today. For everyone who has already discovered the warmth that old things bring to our homes, as well as for newcomers to collecting, this book will be a treasured guide.

From the Inside FlapFor years, collecting antiques has been Barbara Ohrbach's favorite pastime. Cherchez, the elegant home furnishings shop she owned in New York City, reflected her exquisite taste and impeccable eye. In this very personal book, she gives practical advice about collecting and living with antique objects. As she says, all of these treasures from the past are what "give a room its personality and style and a house its soul."Antiques at Home is filled with more than 300 photographs of beautiful old objects and rooms, and provides a wonderful look at the world of collecting -- from flea markets to elegant stores. Ms. Ohrbach discusses many types of antiques, including ceramics, silver, and textiles. In each chapter, she interviews some of the most respected people in the antiques business and includes tips for what to look for when buying antiques and ideas on how to decorate with them. Each chapter ends with a special section on how to care for and preserve these objects.Ms. Ohrbach shares her enthusiasm in searching for antiques and tells us where to find them in an international source guide that reveals her favorite antiques shops, fairs, markets, unusual museums, and historic homes. Decorative arts societies, reference books, decorating periodicals, and restorers are also listed.Beautiful objects that were used and loved in everyday life in the past have become very special to us today. For everyone who has already discovered the warmth that old things bring to our homes, as well as for newcomers to collecting, this book will be a treasured guide.About the AuthorBarbara Milo Ohrbach is the owner and president of Cherchez, the elegant and trend-setting shop she established in New York City, now in Millbrook, New York. In addition to home furnishings and antiques, Cherchez also creates and sells fragrances for the home, which are sold in stores both here and abroad. Ms. Ohrbach is the author of thirteen books. Cherchez and Ms. Ohrbach have been featured in Vogue, W, People, House Beautiful, House and Garden, Gourmet, Glamour, and Ladies' Home Journal.Ms. Ohrbach travels extensively with her husband, searching for unusual antiques and objects for her shops, and ideas for her books.