

Name: 0756628423240 pages | File size: 39.Mb

Judith Miller

ePub | *DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

[DOWNLOAD] Antiques Investigator, Tips And Tricks To Help You Find The Real Deal

Antiques Investigator, Tips And Tricks To Help You Find The Real Deal

Judith Miller : Antiques Investigator, Tips And Tricks To Help You Find The Real Deal before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Antiques Investigator, Tips And Tricks To Help You Find The Real Deal:

7 of 7 people found the following review helpful. antique investigatorBy C. CrittendenThis book was selected as a Christmas present to help a young couple learn to look and notice important details in older objects. The techniques would be helpful to anybody regardless of experience with antiques.. We were so impressed with the content as we thumbed through that we then bought a copy for ourselves19 of 19 people found the following review helpful. Perfect for all types of antiquesBy aebuThis book is exactly what I was looking for even earlier in my antique experience. It touches on everything from porcelain to styles of furniture, fakes, how to detect quality, and much, much more. Every page is full of color photographs and examples. It's a great place to start for anyone who wants to know the basics of different types of antiques. Definitely worth the money! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Too much ground, too little information

By Lee Bradshaw
Trying to cover 90 subjects in 180 pages leaves the reader feeling vexed and frustrated. You get a few titbits of information on the subject, then the article is finished. Not even enough information to qualify as an introduction on most subjects. And just to make things even more frustrating, the book gives values for example objects without telling you anywhere whether they're auction or retail values.

From chairs to chests, ceramics to glass, and teddy bears to silverware, learn the tips expert Judith Miller uses to tell a genuine antique from a fake. An international antiques expert, Miller shows how to inspect hundreds of objects and provides all the tools, techniques and tricks to spot a bona fide antique. AUTHOR BIO: Judith Miller is the widely acclaimed antiques and collectibles expert. She has written more than 100 books on antiques and interiors, including her annual Antiques Price Guide and Collectibles Price Guide. She contributes a monthly column on collecting to the financial times.

From Publishers Weekly
Antiques expert Miller has amassed a wealth of information about antiques in her latest book, part of the "Collector's Guide Series" from DK. Covering furniture, ceramics, glass, metalware and collectibles, Miller is guilty of both overreaching and under-performing; that said, she has put together a sound introduction to several areas. Particularly in her overview of major styles and their specifics, such as chairs from the 18th century to the Arts and Craft movement, Miller is confident and informative; however, a less-than-clear presentation and fuzzy details (is the dollar amount cited next to a particular item retail price, value price or original cost?) will frustrate. First published in the UK, American audiences will find several significant gaps: her expertise seems to skew toward the 18th and 19th centuries, leaving America's Art Deco, Art Nouveau and Modern collectors out; for instance, focusing in depth on "18th Century wine glasses," Miller barely mentions pressed or carnival glass. A Photofit section is quite helpful but hardly comprehensive (a section on silver marks doesn't show Paul Revere's, one of the most widely sought-and imitated-of American antiques). Still, beginners and novices will find much to appreciate here, especially if their interests happen to line up with Miller's. Photographs. Copyright Reed Business Information, a division of Reed Elsevier Inc. All rights reserved. 'Everything you need to know about identifying antiques in one handy volume.' Daily Express 'A great and useful book.' Antiques and Collectables
About the Author
Judith Miller began as a lecturer and regular contributor to newspapers and magazines, and is Antiques and Collectables Magazine's 'Agony Aunt'. Her TV work includes the BBC's Antiques Roadshow, The House Detectives, The Antiques Trail and The Martha Stewart Show. Judith lives in London.