If you are looking for ways to try ...By Karen NeidichWe have actually attended a Antiques Roadshow taping (and my husband was featured on a tv segment!), and the information in this book is wonderful. If you are looking for ways to try to make it on tv there are some great pointers in here. It was a very fun book to read.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Good Book. Awful Kindle Edition of the book.By CAThe book provides a good overview of how Antiques Roadshow is produced. I liked the chapters focused on the appraisers and the antiques that were special over the years. Unfortunately, every other page in the Kindle version of the book had typographical errors. It's embarrassing. Very distracting for the reader. should be ashamed to sell this Kindle edition.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Antiques Roadshow Behind the ScenesBy C. ordwayIt explains some of the processes that people go through to get their antiques on the show. Only 10 percent of people applying for tickets get tickets and of that only two percent of those who get filmed get on the Television.You have to show some knowledge of your item but if you show you know too much you are not pickedbecause you make the expect seem unnecessary.It shows what extend the staff goes through to pick am item for show.It also shows that the story behind the object is sometimes important.This is a good book to tell you what you need in order to get the antique you have on the show but not a guarantee. An all-access pass to America's first (and favorite) reality television program -- boasting over ten million viewers each week -- Antiques Roadshow! If you're a fan of PBS's top-rated Antiques Roadshow, you've probably wondered -- what would it take to get your family treasure on the program? What happens to the antiques after the show airs? Are the appraisers ever wrong? And will Antiques Roadshow come to my hometown? In this four-color, fully illustrated guide to America's favorite treasure-hunting program, Antiques Roadshow Behind the Scenes reveals inside information about the participants, the appraisers, the fans, and the antiques that make up the show, direct from the woman who makes it all happen -- executive producer Marsha Bemko. Learn what it really takes to put on a Roadshow event (and why certain cities are more likely to get a visit from the show than others), who gets chosen to be on air (and what items producers are really looking for), what it takes to be an appraiser (and how even the experts make mistakes) ... and what happens when things go terribly wrong (such as the occasional antique that turns out to have been stolen!). In addition, learn which books, websites, and resources your favorite appraisers recommend, and get updates on some of the most popular and notorious items ever featured on the show. From priceless tips to the juicy family secrets hidden in dusty heirlooms, Antiques Roadshow Behind the Scenes is both an invaluable resource and a fascinating slice of Americana.

About the AuthorMarsha Bemko is the executive producer of the seven-time Emmy Award-nominated Antiques Roadshow and a popular lecturer who writes regularly for the Antiques Roadshow Insider.
