The Golden Age of Collectible Dolls 1946-1965

A. Glenn Mandeville : The Golden Age of Collectible Dolls 1946-1965 before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The Golden Age of Collectible Dolls 1946-1965:

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. GREAT PhotosBy Sue H.Great photos for anyone liking vintage dolls of this era....but don't rely on the price guide (go instead by 'real' prices sold on Ebay or similar websites) and don't expect lots of information.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Great referenceBy Ann RastGreat reference book for the dolls of the 40s and 50s. Glenn does a lovely job of describing the dolls of that era.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. FunBy Beverly J RaffaeleIt's fun to look back at the dolls of the fifties. This book is more of a showcase of the author's memories than a value book. Wonderful!

Become reacquainted with these baby boomer dolls and the era of fashion reflected by these dolls. You will spot the favorite dolls of the 1950s and the early 1960s in the 142 color and 57 b/w photos of such favorites as Chatty Cathy,

Miss Curity, BARBIE, G.I. Joe, and a host of others. An exquisite photo album ideal for any doll lover-now in it's 2nd big printing. 144 pages.

About the AuthorA. Glenn Mandeville is regarded among doll collectors as an expert in identifying and appraising modern collectible dolls. He is regularly consulted by thousands of collectors internationally, thus having created a full-time business from his life long hobby of collecting modern dolls. He often lectures and presents slide programs on collectible and modern dolls, and has evaluated more that $3 million worth of collector dolls. Well-known as a dealer and appraiser of dolls and toys, Mandeville owns an extensive collection that included Mattel's BARBIE dolls, Madame Alexander and celebrity dolls, as well as composition dolls, hard plastic dolls from the 1950s, and contemporary doll artist creations. Mandeville is the author of Ginny...An American Toddler Doll. He is the author of a price guide to Kathe Kruse dolls, and co-author with John Axe, of The Celebrity Doll Price Guide and Annual in 1984, also published by Hobby House Press, Inc. His more recent books include The Golden Age of Collectible Dolls, and Contemporary Doll Stars, published by Hobby House Press, Inc. Mr. Mandeville is founding president of the Delaware Valley Doll Club and a member of the Delaware Valley BARBIE O.N.E. and Orange Blossum BARBIE Club. He has served as Regional Director and chairman of Judges, Modern, for U.F.D.C., Inc. The author is a past president of the Madame Alexander Doll Club, and has served on their Board of Directors. In 1995, he authored the Alexander Doll's Collector's Price Guide, the definitive work on evaluating Alexander Doll Company, Inc., dolls. Mandeville's expertise is reflected in his regular television, newspaper, and magazine reports on collectible and modern dolls. His column, "For The Curious Collector" is a regular feature in Doll Reader magazine. He is also a staff writer and pricing editor for BARBIE Bazaar magazine. Currently residing in the Philadelphia area, Mandeville is presently working on more in depth writing projects, and coordinating a tour of nation-wide quality doll shows.
